THE MAIL ORDER HOUSE AND THE CASH GROCER.

One of the strongest objections to the Mail Order House or the Spot Cash Grocer is the fact that some time in our life we may be compelled by unforeseen circumstances to seek temporary credit until we can turn about and adjust ourselves to the new condition. In this event if we have been spending our cash with any concern who's motto is Strictly Cash in Advance, would it be fair or just to call on our merchant friend, who occasionally grants credit to honest and responsible parties? As a rule an injustice done our conservative, yet liberal merchants, is not forgotten soon. Regardless of your circumstances to-day, to-morrow may find you in distress and want. Those who would refuse to grant the customary privileges to-day, the privileges that we give and take do not in our opinion deserve your patronage. We here would suggest that you patronize your home merchants. In the long-run it means a saving to you, your home-town and home-merchant.

ment, for it will materially raise the standard of the school and put it on a level with the schools of other cities of our population.

In nearly every place this has been tried, it has been a success, and it has been of practical benefit to both the students and the patrons of the school. Farmington already has a fine school system and the proposed course in Domestic Science will be just the thing needed to put it on a yet higher standard. We say, "Vote for the increased taxes," you will never regret it.

Lawyer Wm. Wilks of Caruthersville was in this city on Wednesday of last week, looking after the interests of Judge J. S. Gossom for the appointment to the office of circuit judge. He was accompanied by Chas. Cain of the Gayoso neighborhood.—Hayti Herald.

UNINTENTIONAL BOQUETS

Stenographic Report of Some Clerical Opinions at the Western Conference of the Pittsburg Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church at Warren, Ohio.

"The errors of Russellism" were discussed and the following statements made by Rev. Geo. Johannes, Martin's Ferry, Ohio.

"I don't want to have the experience of Bishop Cox, who preached a sermon against Unitarianism, and he quoted so freely from their literature that at the close of the sermon, a man in the audience told him that he had never believed in Unitarianism before, but this sermon convinced him that it was all right. Russell's literature is being spread broadcast over the world. The editors of the 'Lutheran' carry the idea that Russell's looks are repulsive, but the editor is certainly mistaken, for there is a picture (holding up a tract with Russell's picture on it) and it is a good, kind face to look upon."

Russell has an amazing knowledge of the Scriptures and knows how to apply them. All his followers can quote Scripture by the page.

Rev. Prischorn then took up the discussion. "I want to tell you THIS, that there is no man that does such thorough advertising as does this man Russell. You will see his picture on bill-boards with show actors, and prize-fighters. For thoroughness in advertising for meetings he certainly has the credit, and is cunning enough to draw the crowds. He has intense business ability in publishing and advertising his literature. I believe he could demand $10,000 a month with his business ability. He has an exceptionally keen, bright intellect. Russell has a different binding for his books to fool the people, some are green and some are red. There are few who have as much zeal for distributing religious literature as Russell's followers. We can learn some lessons from this man, to train ourselves in the knowledge of the Scriptures and to have more zeal. Russell has thoroughly trained himself and his fifty-eight preachers in the Scriptures, and they are experts. When we talk with them we are out of the argument because we cannot meet them without the Scriptures. All this is dangerous and Russell knows it."

Rev. Johannes responds: "As I was sitting here I was wondering where all this MONEY came from. They go over the country hiring the finest halls in the largest cities, advertise their meetings extensively, seats free, no collection. The books are cheaper than any other books, cheaper than we sell our books, and where does all this money come from? By preaching 'No Hell.'"

Another minister, whose name was not caught by the stenographer, said: "What is Russell's secret of success? It lays in the good simple Bible truths that people can understand, and what the people want is to study the Bible. Russell's followers are (some of them) spiritual, pious people, some are really good people, though deceived, of course. Russell's books are plain, our books are too stiff and dogmatic. He is teaching error, but why don't we write some good, plain books and sell them cheap? One-half of our congregation is uneducated, ignorant people; while our books and papers are plain to us ministers, they (the common people) can't understand them. People don't understand the errors of Russellism, ad there is only one way to counteract it, that is by preaching the Bible truth. People like these Bible stories made plain and our literature is too dogmatic. When we have a good pious member in our denomination a Russell agent comes along and sells him a set of books, and the first thing we know he has left the church."

Rev. Miller replied: "I cannot understand why there is anything wrong with our literature. I can't imagine anyone wanting anything better to read. All we need is to praise our literature up more and put it before the people. It is the way the Russell agents have of presenting their wine-colored books, and I only wish we Lutherans had some of their zeal. They go into the homes, tell the people that they need and want these books, and make them believe that they really ought to have them. We Lutherans want to give the people what they NEED."

Rev. Snyder's comment: "Where is our Lutheran literature? Very few church members have the 'Lutheran' in their homes, and when they do, they do not read it."

"You go into any hotel, station or waiting room where there is a rack for papers and you will see Russell's literature, and even in our jails. But where do you see Lutheran literature? When you get off the street car there is often some one to hand you his papers. Russell's success is due to his money and spreading his literature. I have seen some really good people among Russell's followers.—St. Paul Enterprise. (adv.)

Whole Family Benefited By Wonderful Remedy

There are many little things to annoy us, under present conditions of life. The hurry, hard work, noise and strain all tell on us and tend to provoke nervousness and irritability. We are frequently so worn out we can neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. We are out of line with ourselves and others as well.

A good thing to do under such circumstances is to take something like to relieve the strain on the nerves. Mrs. J. B. Hartford, 82 Plum St., Atlanta Ga., writes:

"I have on several occasions been vastly relieved by the use of your medicine, especially the Anti-Pain Pills, which I keep constantly on hand for the use of myself, husband and two sons. Nothing in the world equals them as a headache remedy. Often I am enabled by the use of one or two of the Pills to continue my housework when otherwise I would be in bed. My husband joins me in my praise of the Anti-Pain Pills and Nerveine."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

are relied upon to relieve pain, nervousness and irritability in thousands of households. Of proven merit after twenty years' use, you can have no reason for being longer without them.

At all Druggists, 25 doses 25 cents.
